Description of Defect, how it came to light, and possible consequences if ignored.	The wiring harness of the steering control unit may not have been produced according to the specification in affected vehicles. In this case, the wiring harness of the steering control unit may have been damaged in the production process, which may result in moisture ingress into the wiring harness. As a result, the possibility of moisture ingress into the control unit cannot be ruled out. This could result in the loss of the electric steering assist, which would increase the risk of an accident. A failure of the electric power steering would be indicated by a corresponding warning message in the instrument cluster.
